	The boy refused to take the hat off.
	He went for long forest walks.
	He found the birds perched in the tall tree.
	The boy worried the creatures would escape so put them in jars and cages.
	He understood. The creatures needed freedom.
	One day the boy found a black hat.
	He lived with his grandmother in an old forest cabin.

While he slept strange creatures crept out of the hat.

The boy looked in awe at the beautiful birds.

He went into the forest to look for the bird.
