

Spider Monkey

They can swing hand over hand through the trees due to their flexible shoulder joints.

They make barking sounds and shake the branches of tree with their arms and legs to deter predators

Spider monkeys live in communities of 20-40 members, called a troop

Female spider monkeys give birth to one baby every 1-5 years. When its born it cannot swing so it clings to its mother

The Spider monkey can be found in Central and South America

There are 7 different types of species

Their long limbs and tails ,make them look like spiders
