

The monster was the most revolting thing I'd ever seen. It had the face of a jellyfish, the leg of a fish, the body of a turtle and hands of a crab. It was very mysterious and nothing I'd ever seen before . It kept making a sea sound and I expected that's how it would talk but it was really creepy. I looked into its eyes and they were lit on fire. I couldn't tell if it was angry or naturally like that.
